Quinn Resigns as Brick Local Head For New Position

Resignation of Joseph Quinn as president of the Brickhandlers' Local, No. 1587, was announced at a meeting of the executive council last evening. Mr. Quinn has been president of the local since its organization last summer when Hudson valley brickyard workers were organized. Mr. Quinn resigned his position as president of the local to take the position as Eastern representative of the United Brick and Clay Workers of America, with a territory extending from Maine to Florida.

To Remain Here
Today Mr. Quinn said his resignation would not cause his removal from Kingston but he would operate out of Kingston, maintaining offices here. In order to take care of an enlarged staff larger quarters will be sought. At least 14 men will work out of the local office and several girls will be employed in the office.

By his new position Mr. Quinn will become the ninth international vice president of the UBCWA. This is associated with the American Federation of Labor and has jurisdiction over all brick and clay products workers under a ruling handed down by the A. F. of L. executive council last month. President of the Brickhandlers' Local will be filled at a meeting to be called in the near future, he said. Meanwhile the organization will be under the jurisdiction of John Kirby, president of the Albany International Longshoremen's Association local.

In the Hudson valley area the UBCWA will cooperate with the ILA, Mr. Quinn said.
Organized Workers
Mr. Quinn was largely responsible for the organization of brickyard workers along the Hudson river last summer when practically all yards were shut down by a strike, when workers demanded recognition of the union and wage and hour adjustments. The strike was first called down the river and extended up to the Kingston and Coxsack area. Contracts were signed later and the workers returned to work. Throughout the strike Mr. Quinn maintained a "peaceful picketing" policy and there was no violence.

This morning Mr. Quinn told a Freeman reporter that he had just received word from an organizer in the south New Jersey area who had reported that a meeting would be held tomorrow with the operators of 11 brickyards in New Jersey who would sign contracts with the United Brick and Clay Workers of America.

Offices will be maintained for the present on Railroad avenue. In his new position Mr. Quinn will have supervision over every local of brick and clay workers along the eastern coast from Maine to Florida. These locals include employees in brick, tile and pottery plants as well as all other workers in clay.

SHOKAN
Shokan, July 7.—Gabriel Richard of New York paid a visit to his country home on the state road last week.

Louis Shaw, a native of Shokan, called on some of his old friends in the village Monday. Mr. Shaw had been on a trip through Denning and part of Sullivan county, and he brought back six pounds of trout, caught in the headwaters of the Rondout. The Neale cottage on the north boulevard has been rented by Mr. and Mrs. Otto Grossman for use in accommodating their boarders over the week-end.

The Grossman farm house was filled with city guests over the holiday and a number of the boarders are remaining for a longer vacation.

John Haggerty, well known member of the reservoir laboratory staff, was a caller here Monday.

Claude Rose, local building contractor, has practically finished the carpentry work on Lewis Knapp's new dance hall and the place is nearly ready for social gatherings. The hall is attractively furnished. The dance floor is of polished oak and the woodwork trim is in cypress.

there being little or no sign of the blight as yet.
Vincent McDermott of New York was a holiday guest at the Raymond Osterhout home near the aerator.

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Casablanca, who have been coming to Shokan for several summers, were at the Lydman House in Asora Hill over the Fourth.

Work is progressing rapidly on the superstructure of the new County house at DeWitt's Corner. The building is being erected on the site of the late John Blackwell's residence.

James Rutherford with his team is getting in hay on the Winchell farm.
July 5, 1913, Judge Kellogg confirmed an award made to Eleanor J. Stewart for damages to a sand-pit on the Stewart place east of Brown's Station. Materials from the pit was used in the construction work on dams and dikes of the Ashokan Reservoir.

Nelson Otis of Kingston has completed the framework of his new house at the intersection of the mountain and state roads. Mr. Otis has several carpenters engaged on the job. The building is being erected on the foundations of the Burtis Wheat residence which burned down two years ago.

Earl North of the mountain road is laying a wall for Fred Guinack at the latter's farm near the Hurley town line.
BLUE MOUNTAIN
Blue Mountain, July 7.—Services on Sunday will be as follows: Sunday school at 10 a. m. Morning worship at 11. Young People's meeting at 8 p. m. Edron Wolven, reader.

The day school closed on June 22. The teacher, Miss Evelyn Myer, and children, enjoyed the day with a picnic at Bobby Myer's home in the Pine Grove. Miss Myer will teach at Churchland next year.

Mrs. Anna Schoonmaker returned to her home in Catskill on Wednesday, after spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. Peter Moore.

Mrs. Edna Pettit of Woodhaven is spending some time at her home here.
Mrs. William Hommel spent Thursday afternoon with Mrs. Peter Moore.
Mrs. Schaffer and her sister and sister-in-law and her Sunday school class of St. James M. E. Church of Kingston enjoyed a picnic at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Freiligh last Friday.

Clinton Myer of Brooklyn and Archie Vedder of Amsterdam were Thursday night guests of their niece and nephew, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freiligh.

Mrs. J. J. de Pool called on the Rev. and Mrs. Eugene C. Duryee and mother, Mrs. A. Duryee, on Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Peter Myer and son, Harford, and Mrs. Hilda Myer and son, Clayton, and daughter, Carolyn, and Miss Cecilia Healey, of Kingston, were supper guests of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Freiligh, on July 4.

Henry Lempin and children of Long Island and John Hommel of Haines Falls called on John's brother, William Hommel, and wife, on Monday.
Mr. and Mrs. William Hommel spent Tuesday evening with Mr. and Mrs. Claude Hommel.
Mrs. Claude Hommel and daughter, Beverly, spent Wednesday in Saugerties with her sister, Mrs. Fred Eckerlin.

BONES OF "MISSING LINK" DISCOVERED

Anthropologist Believes He Has Real Thing.

JOHANNESBURG, SOUTH AFRICA.—The right upper jaw of a primitive man, believed to constitute the "missing link" between the ape and man, has been found by Dr. Robert Broom, famous British anthropologist, in the Sterkfontein caves near Krugersdorp, Transvaal.
"We have the rather startling fact revealed," Doctor Broom said, "that the canine tooth is enlarged as in the chimpanzee or gorilla and is typically human. It is even smaller than in most human skulls.
"Further, there is no gap between the incisor and the canine so that the teeth form a continuous series as in man."

In 1930 Doctor Broom found in the Sterkfontein caves the greater part of an adult skull, without mandibles. This discovery, he called Australopithecus Transvaalensis.
At that time Doctor Broom already had the greater part of the braincase of the top of the skull, with the frontal ridges and bones, and the nearly complete upper jaw of the right side. Later he discovered the upper left jawbone well preserved, with the first and second molars and the sockets of the incisor and canine. Later Doctor Broom discovered the lower wisdom tooth, the upper wisdom tooth, much of the upper first incisor and the badly worn wisdom tooth of an old individual.

Now he has been successful in finding a good right upper jaw with the incisor, canine, a premolar and a molar.

Sun Spots' Cooling Power
Found Best Refrigerator
MINNEAPOLIS.—Sun spots are the best refrigerator known to man, and they work on the same principle as man-made refrigerators, according to Prof. John W. Evans, acting chairman of the University of Minnesota astronomy department.
He explained that "the heated gas expands and cools the atmosphere. While the temperature of the sun is 10,800 degrees Fahrenheit, the center of this whirlpool is only 7,200 degrees. The sun spot could make an object taken from the sun's atmosphere 3,600 degrees cooler."

Magnetic storms seem to correlate closely with the appearance of sun spots, he said. The aurora borealis also apparently is correlated with sun spots crossing the sun. Experiments at the University of Arizona have proved that trees grow better at a maximum period of the sun spots, he said.

"Although the sun spots appear black," he said, "if all light from the sun were shut off, they would be too bright to look at. If an observer from another planet saw our tornadoes they would appear similar to the sun spots, which travel at a rate of 150 miles a second."

Glass Springs Are Used in Scales for Accuracy
SCHEENECTADY.—Scales with springs of spun glass are used in General Electric company laboratories to record changes in the weight of materials under varying atmospheric conditions.

The springs, tiny threads spun from fused quartz and shaped into coils, indicate differences as minute as 1-28,000th of an ounce.

Quartz was chosen for the super-sensitive weighing apparatus because it does not corrode or lose temper when subjected to moisture or high temperatures.
Filaments for the springs are drawn from fused quartz rods heated to 3,000 degrees Fahrenheit. The threads, about 6-1,000th of an inch in diameter, are reheated and then wound into coils about one inch long, with 50 to 80 turns to the inch.

Measuring moisture absorption of fibers is one of the uses of the springs. This feat is accomplished by saturating the fiber with water vapor, and then weighing the fiber in a vacuum. The water absorbed is noted in the stretch of the spring.

PORT EWEN

Port Ewen, July 7.—A softball game will be played on the Kingston Loughr a Perz diamond this evening between the Port Ewen Men's Community Club team and the Hurley team.

The congregation of the Reformed Church are asked to please donate toward the food sale which the Ladies' Aid Society will hold on Mrs. Edith Schryver's lawn Friday afternoon.

All members of the Fife, Drum and Bugle Corps are requested to attend the special practice at 7:15 this evening.

At a recent meeting of the Boy Scout committee, the following oficers were elected: Scoutmaster, Frank Patten; assistant scoutmasters, Jack Splinterweber, George Clark and Robert Clark.

There will be sports for all and an interesting entertainment has also been prepared. The program is as follows: Vocal solo, Mrs. Clarence Wolfenstein; violin solo, Mrs. Crowley; accordion solo, Sterling Atkins; vocal duet, Nancy Thomas and Barbara Ellsworth; saxophone solo, William Bakel.

Mrs. Warren Howe and daughters, Dorothy and Ruth, of Union City, N. J., are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Charles Howe.

Bitten by Dogs
Two local children were bitten by dogs yesterday afternoon according to reports made to the local police. Carl Zeigler, of 67 Wurts street, reported that his son was bitten by a dog the owner of which was known. The latter was notified by the police to keep the dog tied. Mrs. Kovacs, of 75

QUESTIONING PUPILS

N. E. A. convention delegates, a group of professional radio artists, a commentator and a casually collected and unrehearsed group of boys and girls from a New York public high school participated in an interesting demonstration the other day. First the radio performers presented a broadcast entitled "Propaganda." It represented a cabinet meeting in a fictitious, dictator-ruled country. War against a neighboring country was being planned, and the cabinet members were arranging the methods by which they would incite their country to make war. Their plans included propaganda in schools, civic organizations, the army and navy, the press, radio and other channels of publicity and influence.

When the broadcast was finished the listening high school pupils were asked to comment. Boys and girls leaped to their feet singly and in groups and had a good deal to say. They showed a healthy skepticism toward the program and clear recognition of the various propaganda techniques employed. They discussed ways of sifting out the truth in statements presented by press, radio and school teachers. They defended free speech as the best weapon against propaganda. They agreed that it was a good idea to consider conflicting statements and then to make up their own minds. They even went into the question of what to do about people who are so open-minded that they are never able to form opinions of their own.

The interested reporter watching this demonstration described the children as "articulate, untrammelled, with not a shrinking violet in the group." Isn't that the way school-children should be? It sounds as if this group were really learning to think, to weigh facts, to seek truth, to express themselves clearly and without self-consciousness. In other words, they are being educated.

BOYS AND BUTLERS

Youthful stamp collectors in Washington, D. C., believed that they could get lots of foreign stamps if they inquired at the various embassies. They tried it in such numbers and so regularly that they got to be a nuisance to the people who had to answer the doorbells.

Butlers, however, possess hearts and human understanding. Instead of ordering the boys to stay away, the butlers evolved a scheme to serve the boys and spare themselves extra work at the front door. They set a definite time for calling—Saturday mornings—and agreed to set boxes containing the week's assortment of stamps in the front vestibules. The boys now rummage through the boxes without disturbing the occupants of the embassy, pick out any stamps they want, and go peacefully away. We suppose it's a matter of first come, first served. At any rate, no quarrels or riots have been reported.

Here is an example of cooperation and compromise in a matter which might have ended less happily for all concerned. It is trivial, perhaps, but instructive.

WAR-DEPRESSION CYCLE

Great Britain's housing program, just after the World War and in more recent years, has interested Americans greatly because of its practical success. Low cost housing on a large scale provided both needed dwellings and needed employment. That picture is changing today.

E. G. Hicks, Labor member of Parliament and president of the National Federation of Building Trades, announced recently that building has been seriously slowed down, with a consequent marked rise in unemployment in that and allied industries. He attributed the slump to the refusal of insurance companies to write policies covering the risk of damage by enemy aircraft. Naturally he wants the government to do something about it.

This is the sort of vicious circle that war creates. The World War stopped house building until there was a serious shortage of dwellings. An enlightened program begins to overcome that shortage and produce employment and homes and prosperity, but fear of the next war intervenes and stops the process.

SUPERDREADNOUGHTS POSTPONED

Many people, including naval experts, are relieved by the decision to postpone indefinitely the building of 45,000-ton battleships. It would be fine to have a couple of super-dreadnoughts capable, in theory at least, of blowing any existing warship out of the water from a safe distance. But most of the experts seem agreed that, for the present at least, there are too many objections.

The two behemoths contemplated would cost at least $100,000,000 apiece, and for $200,000,000 a fleet of "pocket battleships" can be built that might be, on the whole, more effective. It takes much less time to build smaller fighting ships, and the experts know how to build them without experimenting, whereas they would be taking some big chances on the giants. With smaller craft they avoid the technical risk of putting so many eggs into one basket. The big fellows might get into trouble going through the Panama Canal and might run aground in harbors safe enough for ordinary battleships. So we shall worry along for a while with a top weight of 35,000 tons.

Nobody is saying much about it, but the airplane and submarine problems, too, doubtless have something to do with the decision. The bigger they are, the easier marks the surface ships make. And no matter how heavily armored they may be, a lot of damage can be done by a ton of nitroglycerine dropped from a height of two miles. A hundred million dollars and a thousand lives might go at one crack.

In spite of everything, rich American girls keep right on marrying foreign noblemen.

If there's one thing Americans like more than reform laws, it's breaking them.

There is still no agreement that swing music should swing by the neck.

 LIGHT EXERCISE HELPFUL FOR THE MIDDLE AGED

There is so much being said these days about heart disease and high blood pressure that many middle-aged individuals are afraid to take even light or mild exercise thinking it will increase both heart rate and the blood pressure.

As a matter of fact the heart rate and the blood pressure can be considerably increased by the exercise but this increase can really be helpful, not harmful, if the exercise is taken at a slow instead of a fast rate.

In Hygiene, the health magazine, Rudley B. Reed records experiments showing how the speed of the heart rate affects the heart rate. Thus an individual sitting on a stationary bicycle had a heart rate of 30 a minute and this rate increased to 108 at the end of the first 20 seconds of operating or pedaling the machine, to 137 at the end of the first minute and 150 at the end of second minute. This person pedaled at a rapid rate and against moderate resistance.

Dr. J. F. McCurdy (formerly Dean of the Springfield Training School for Y. M. C. A. physical directors) testing eighteen young men, found an average increase of 37 per cent in the heart rate after a fast 100 yard run, 44 per cent after a fast 220, and 56 per cent after a fast quarter-mile run. A pulse rate was still 36 beats above normal after eighty minutes rest following a quarter-mile run.

It is the great speed of the exercise, especially if maintained in such hard games as tennis, badminton, basketball and volleyball that not only increases the rate during the exercise but keeps up the increase for minutes afterwards. It is the persistent increase after fast exercise that uses up the heart reserve in those who are middle-aged.

What about blood pressure and exercise? "Exercises of moderate speed cause a rapid rise of blood pressure during the first five or ten minutes, a gradual fall beginning as the work continues and a rapid return to normal when exercise is stopped. Vigorous exercises of speed, strength, and endurance all cause a considerable increase of blood pressure whereas mild exercises do not."

The thought then is that by taking light or mild exercise the middle aged individual speeds up the circulation of his blood and also increases his blood pressure. In a man at rest a gallon of blood is circulated throughout the body every minute, whereas with vigorous exercise, the same amount of blood, one gallon, may circulate as many as nine times. This means that exercise not only nourishes the tissues better but the waste from the tissues is removed much more rapidly.

The middle-aged, by taking mild exercise, get all the benefits of exercise and none of its dangers.

LOVE ON THE RANGE

BY MELVIN C. JYTT

The Story So Far

Trying to escape trouble, "Blair" Ankrum gets it up to his neck when he rescues Lee Trone from a gang of thugs. Under the name of Abe Strutter, he accepts a job at the Trones' Rafter T, which is in difficulties, and has a run-in with Mose Hackett, the range boss. Lee tells her father Ankrum knows their friends, the Struthers, then learns they are coming to town.

Chapter Six

You Imitation Bad Man

THERE was conviction in Lee's low voice when she spoke. "Mose Hackett is no fourflusher. If he's bad, which I don't believe for a minute, then he's a curly wolf. He's not the 'yes-man' type."

"Neither is a coyote," Ankrum countered. "He's a believer in the motto: 'Them as fights an' runs away will live to fight another day.' Now let's talk about something else. As a conversational topic, Brother Hackett grows extremely odious."

He was aware that in the darkness her eyes still remained upon his face, he realized his slip almost as soon as he made it and so was not surprised to hear her say: "Where did you learn to sling words around like that?"

He answered carelessly, "I wasted a number of years at a type of fear. That Hackett was primed for trouble he knew well, for he recognized certain signs to which he was accustomed in men who picked quarrels. He stiffened, but that was all.

A red flame was flickering in Mose Hackett's eyes, his body was bent forward from the waist and his right hand hovered above the pistol at his hip. An ugly snarl twitched his lips.

"Yeah—Hackett!"

"Got something on your mind?" "You're damn well right I have. There ain't no man in Texas can run on me the way you done this afternoon an' git away with it. Go on—shuck your iron, you imitation bad man!"

"The place an' time to stage this melodrama was before the bunkhouse this afternoon. I'm not healed now, an' you know it." Ankrum eyed the burly range boss coldly. "Thought you told Trone you were leavin' for the southeast line camp."

"What I told Trone ain't none of your business. An' if you ain't healed that's your tough luck. A wicked jubilation added fuel to the flame in Hackett's eyes. "I'm gonna work you over till your own mother won't even know you!"

With the words he started forward, jerking the pistol from his holster.

Ankrum's soft laugh mocked the range boss's threat. It caused Mose Hackett to draw up swiftly and university once," and was relieved that she let it go like that and did not press him. Several moments passed, then he put a question to her that caused her breath to be drawn sharply.

Clutching his horny fists, Hackett rushed forward.

"What makes you connect what happened in Paso Pinto last night with these troubles of your father? What makes you think someone might be trying to strike at him through you?"

"Who said that's what I think?" "But you do, don't you?"

"After dragging seconds she said, 'Yes,' slowly. Then, 'You don't miss much, do you?'"

"Can't afford to," he answered. "In my business a man has to stay awake." His voice went grim and a little bitter. "It's the price a gun-man pays for continued existence."

"But you're not a gun-man—" "Some people have called me one. I can recall a number of occasions—"

"Those people were fools," she snapped. The beating of Blair Ankrum's heart stepped up terrifically. "Lee—" he dropped the arm that had lain across the back of the seat upon her shoulders in the earnestness of what he was about to say. "Lee—"

But he felt the sudden stiffening of her supple form beneath that arm and the words he had been about to launch were scattered. The moment was lost and in the darkness a cynical curve twisted the line of his lips. He removed the offending arm as though it had been burnt.

"I think I'd better go," said Lee coldly.

He watched her leave. When she had gone, the bitter mood clamped more firmly down upon him than ever. Her passing left the gulf between them plain. He'd been a fool to ever think—

He stepped from the car, strode toward the lighter space that marked the door. A figure lounging there grew straight and blocked his path; he read a definite menace in its rigidity.

"Hold on, you!"

Ankrum's muscles tensed; that voice belonged to Hackett!

Primed For Trouble

"HACKETT!"

Ankrum's face reflected no surprise nor showed the faintest peer at him through narrowed lids. "What the hell you laughin' at?" "You," Ankrum laughed again, and watched a dull red stain the range boss's cheeks.

"Why you lousy saddle bum—" Hackett choked. "I'll make you eat that laugh!"

Spread-Eagled

ANKRUM did not move as Hackett thrust his gun in leather and balled his horny fists, but his eyes became steely. The range boss, looking into them, should have taken warning. Instead, he came forward in a rush as Ankrum backed away.

Then suddenly Ankrum stopped—stopped short in his tracks and struck. That lashing fist took Hackett flush upon the jaw and checked all movement. His body sagged and he took an uncertain backward step or two. Then Ankrum's fist lashed again. Hackett reeled against the stable. A moment, all his faculties were concentrated on that huddled mass that was Mose Hackett. The man might be out, or he might be playing possum. Long experience had taught Blair Ankrum to take no chances.

Another minute passed Hackett stirred and groaned. His eyes opened and looked dull, uncomprehending. Finally he got to his feet, staggering a little. He was a strong man, injured to danger. Obviously he had never known a pulse of fear till now. But as his eyes encountered Ankrum where he stood as cold and motionless as some man of bronze, Mose Hackett's knees shook visibly, his eyes went wide and he drew air into his lungs in noisy gasps.

There fell a silence strained, portentous. Ankrum broke it. "Well?"

Chalk Still There

Lancaster, July 7 (AP)—When last year's flood rushed through the Legion memorial building it raised the bowling alleys so high that a piece of finger-chalk was jammed into the ceiling. The chalk is still there, just within the reach of today's bowlers, who still rub their thumbs in it before each throw.

Man About Manhattan

By George Tucker

NEW YORK—This is the day we get some correspondence off our chest. The doctor says, "Sure, go ahead, it'll be good for you." So we turn through the mail basket and pick up a letter from a man in Oakland, California. He sends in a clipping of a column I wrote about a Swedish restaurant in New York. And he says: "That sounded good. Tell me the name of that restaurant, will you? I'm coming to New York soon and I want to go there."

Well, that's the second query today about that restaurant. A lady in Jersey City wants to know where it is and how much it costs. I must have neglected to give the name when I wrote about it. It's the Stockholm restaurant.

AND here is another letter from Oakland, California, from a man whose initials are J. N. Not long ago I asked if anyone knew whether Al Jolson's name stood for Albert, Alfred, Allen, or what? My friend from the coast is giving me the rib on that one.

"Didn't it ever occur to you," he queries, "that it doesn't have to stand for anything; that it might stand for itself?" Mr. N. goes on to explain the metamorphosis of proper names, and adds: "I have always been puzzled how some columnists confess their helplessness to readers instead of looking up a fact. For a name, the best authority is its wearer. And speaking of names, why not try to live up to yours and Tuck in all facts neatly?" However, I don't think he's really mad, because he concludes with this little P. S.: "I'm as bad as you—here I'm wasting precious minutes and a stamp on a matter that's of importance zero."

MR. LEO S. ROSENCRANS, of Detroit, sends in a note. He has read this column in the Findlay, Ohio, Republican-Courier, and he asks to know:

"If 8-20 is the exact time Abraham Lincoln was shot—how do you explain the fact that Mr. Lincoln did not arrive at Ford's theater until 8:30?"

This comment refers to a statement of some time ago that the hands on jeweler's clocks were usually set at 8:20 because that was the hour Lincoln was supposed to have been shot.

You are not the first who has questioned me on that one. Mr. Rosencrans. Not long ago an Alabama editor asked me about it and then gave an explanation that, to me, seems entirely plausible. He says the hands on jeweler's clocks are set at 8:20 because that leaves sufficient space on the clock's face for the jeweler's name, and other advertising.

ASHOKAN

Ashokan, July 6—The Fourth of July celebration at Samsonville was largely attended. There were people from many surrounding places. They estimate at one time there were over 100 cars parked there. Music was furnished by the Phoenicia band. All report a fine time and an excellent supper.

Washington Daybook

By PRESTON GROVER

WASHINGTON—In spite of all these spy stories, the War and Navy buildings are not the most carefully watched buildings in Washington. Most guarded is the Federal Reserve building.

One afternoon, just to be hectic, we walked through the Navy building, down one corridor and into another, and then toured the Army's in addition. Not once were we stopped, or even eyed, so far as we could tell. But when we crossed Constitution avenue and entered the Federal Reserve building a guard stopped us in the first 20 feet.

Nothing gruff about the guards. They are pleasant enough young fellows, dressed in dark blue uniforms with a nick or two of braid.

"Can I help you?" said Guard Number One.

"I have an appointment." "With whom, please?"

So we told him. He passed us through and we went up to the second floor, heading for an office we had visited repeatedly before.

Guard Number Two

WE WERE winking confidently along when another guard nailed us. By that time we were a bit subdued by the magnificence of it all, for all the buildings in Washington the Federal Reserve makes us feel most acutely the "grandeur that was Rome"—or was it Greece?

The second guard snared us in a little circular hallway from which passages led in several directions. "Are you looking for someone?"

He was taking no chances but plunked himself smack in front of us. We named our name as well as the name of the man we came to see. All these he telephoned some place or other and then told us politely to wait five minutes in a side room.

That side room, for casual guests, is a President's suite all by itself. You sink to your arms (well, almost) in the rug and look through a tall window into a garden.

Why, Mr. Grover!

THERE are polished ash trays there and there and new pads of matches by each one. We have been in the room several times but never once have seen any ashes on a tray to indicate somebody was nonchalant enough to smoke there. We weren't, but snatched a pack of matches, for a souvenir.

Presently the guard came for us with a "This way, please." We thought we would be allowed to take the next 10 steps to our goal without company, but that was a mistake. Guard Number Two produced a Negro attendant who showed us to the doorway down a marble lined hallway behind which was our man.

The strange part of it is that when you get into the place you can't even cash a check. There isn't a dime of bank money in the building.

Vacation Plans

"I SHOULD," said Willy Nilly, "do something soon about my pointed, sticking-out ears."

"Does that mean you're going to do something, really?" asked Christopher Columbus Crow.

"It depends what Willy Nilly means by 'soon,'" cackled Top Notch.

"Well, caw, caw, caw, soon means soon, as a w-e-r-e-t Christopher."

"In a way it does," crowed Top Notch. "Soon might mean within a day or so or a week or so or even a month or so."

"That's so," smiled Willy Nilly, as he stroked his right whisker. "I don't have to do anything about them right away. We haven't had any vacation and—"

"Are we going to have a vacation?" bleated Sweet Face.

"Are we going on a trip, quack quack?" quacked the ducks.

"When do you plan to start?" added Mrs. Quacko. "I'd want to get ready a bit."

"You mean you want to go over and tell Mrs. Quacko that you're to have a vacation," barked Rip. "I know you!"

Mrs. Quacko did not answer. Rip knew he was right.

"Are we going in the trailer?" asked Jelly Bear.

"The trailer was what I had in mind," answered Willy Nilly. "I can overhaul my automobile Two-Ways, and we can pack the trailer with food."

"That's what you were thinking about, Jelly Bear," cawed Christopher.

"And," continued Willy Nilly, "we could leave everything in order here, and be ready to start in a few days or a week. But where shall we go?"

Men Rescue Girl on Mountain

Valley, N. Y., July 7 (AP).—A 15-year-old German nurse, trapped more than 10 hours on a ledge half way up a 1,000-foot mountain cliff, was rescued early today.

The girl, employed by Dr. Paul E. Evanson, Ill., Congregational minister spending the summer here, was little the worse for experience, Constable William said.

Nine men, directed by Constable Isham, were unable to scale the cliff which the girl, Maria Gerson, climbed yesterday afternoon. Instead they ascended the mountain from the rear, split into two groups, and lowered one of their number with a rope to haul the girl from the ledge.

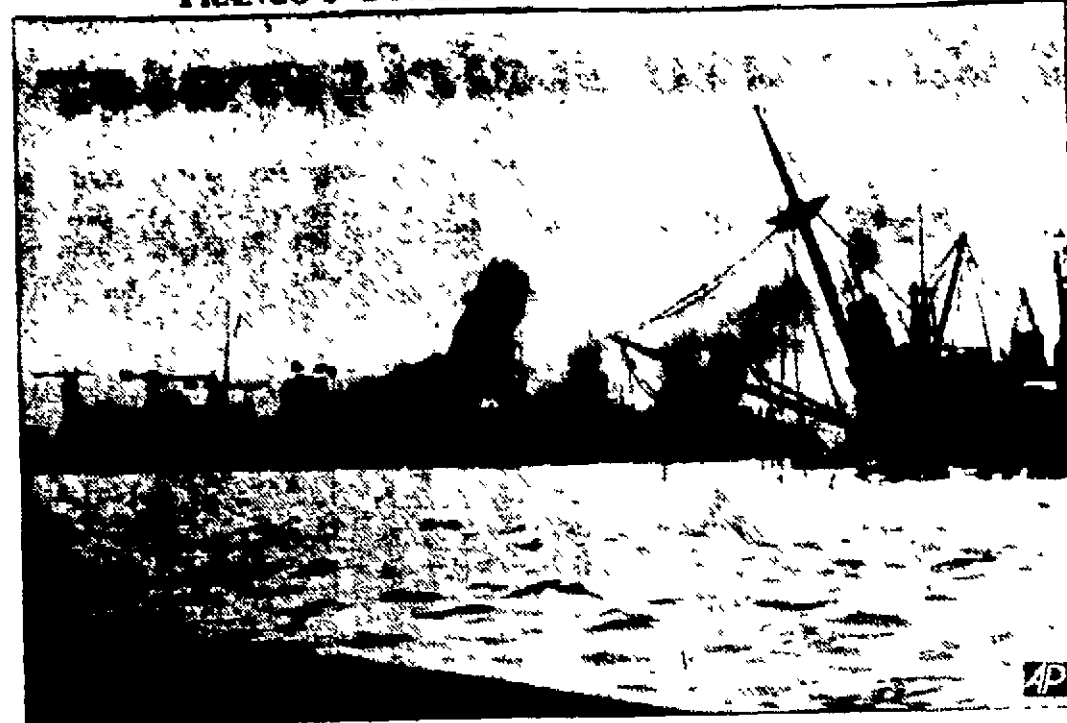

She joined her rescuers in climbing to the top, where they built a fire and waited until dawn before returning home.

The girl's plight was discovered about 6 p. m. EST. last night, when a motorist driving along the main Montreal-New York highway heard someone calling for help and noticed her waving on the ledge.

The girl, who has been in this country only six months, became stranded on the ledge while attempting to scale the cliff yesterday.

FRANCO'S BOMBERS SINK CARGO SHIPS

Burning and sinking in the harbor at Valencia, Spain, these two cargo ships were among the merchant marine victims of General Franco's insurgent air bombers. Attacks such as this drew the suggestion in British parliament that merchant ships be equipped with anti-aircraft guns. In June, there were 16 such attacks on ships of British registry. British protests brought a promise from Franco that his bombers will discriminate in favor of ships with British flag and that he will name "free ports" for legitimate trade.

St. James Scouts Cover 3 Mountains In Notable Hike

Troop 11, Boy Scouts of St. James Methodist Church, went on their second annual hike July 2, 3 and 4 and accumulated a more than generous supply of trail and mountain climbing experience. The 14 Scouts, with scoutmaster and assistant covered about 17 miles of hard going in the three days and in addition scaled three of the Catskills peaks totaling nearly 12,000 feet in height—Wittenberg, 3,802, Cornell, 3,906, Slide, 4,204 feet.

Saturday night, July 2, the Scouts with Scoutmaster Ed Freese went to Woodland Valley and ascended half way up Wittenberg, to a public lean-to, where they camped for the night. Sunday morning they were joined by two more scouts and the assistant scoutmaster, who left the city that morning and the party continued the hike to the top of Wittenberg, where they ate dinner. That afternoon the descent of Wittenberg was made. The wooded trail was taken to Cornell mountain, over that and then on to the top of Slide mountain, where the second night's camp was made.

Breakfast the morning of the Fourth was eaten at the camp on Slide following which the descent was made and the hike continued to Wittenberg. Lodge and from there by a wood road to the starting point at Woodland valley, where cars were waiting to take the weary explorers back to the city.

Mortgage Loans Show Increase

Mortgage loans for May, 1938, made by savings and loan associations throughout the state increased nine per cent over loans for May, 1937, according to Zebulon V. Woodard, executive vice-president of the New York State League of Savings and Loan Associations.

This increase is based upon monthly figures submitted by 82 of the League's 216 member associations, located in 135 cities and towns in New York state. The reporting institutions have total assets of $144,672,977.00 and report 570 loans totaling $1,514,880.00 of which 319, in a grand total of $1,250,605.00, were for the purchase and construction of new homes.

Projecting this figure to include all thrift and home financing institutions in the state a figure of 1,498 loans, totalling $4,734,170.00 during May, 1938, is reached, which represents a nine per cent increase over the same month last year.

Woman Plane Dispatcher

THINKS SHE'S FIRST ONE

CONCORD, N. H.—Mrs. Alice L. Marston claims to be the first woman airline dispatcher in the country. Since 1933 Mrs. Marston, the mother of a seven-year-old girl and wife of an airport official, has held this position at the airport where she is employed by the Boston & Maine Vermont Central air lines.

She wears a regulation blue-gray uniform, service cap and at her waist a leather holstered automatic. Regulations require that she be armed to protect the mails. Airmen in northern New England say she is one of the most efficient dispatchers in the East.

MONTGOMERY WARD

By L. L. STEVENSON

Competition: Almost daily there is a meeting of the South Wind club in the roof garden of a prominent hotel. Membership is composed of men who have had adventures all over the world. One member bears the name Harold Dove. Once upon a time the man with the name of the symbol of peace deliberately walked into an ambush of African spear-men and wiped them out single-handed. Two members constitute a quorum. Sessions are informal. The members merely talk of gun-running for some banana republic or of other perilous pastimes. The South Wind club has been in existence for some time. Last fall a group of women who came to New York with their husbands from small towns organized a sewing circle which meets at the same hotel. Now the sewing circle has transferred its meeting place to the roof. As the women sew they talk. And won't it be fun when the sewing circle and the South Wind sessions happen to coincide.

Contrast: On lower Broadway a well-dressed young man stood beside one of those corner trash baskets. He was eating bananas. Evidently he is a person of consideration as instead of throwing the skins on the sidewalk he carefully tossed them into the basket. And on the other side of the basket was a low-eyed derelict who, as the skins went into the basket, fished out pieces of tinfoil and other bits of salvage which, if he found enough, might have a value of a few cents.

Recession: For years a legless man has been selling shoe laces in Exchange place. His place of business is a wheel chair. During the business upturn last year he invested a portion of his savings in a chair electrically propelled. He used that every day until recently. Now he is back to the old chair, which he propels with his hands.

Interludes: Xavier Cugat, when not swinging a baton, does caricatures for class magazines. . . . Sammy Kaye still owns Varsity inn, Ohio university campus rendezvous, which he took over in his undergrad days. . . . Frank Bailey, another orchestra man, owns a swanky Long Island night spot. . . . Gene Krupa studies the history of drumming and writes books on the subject. . . . Bunny Berigan collects batons though he never conducts with one. . . . Kate Smith owns a professional basketball team. . . . Songwriter Benny Davis is in the wholesale meat business. . . . Abe Lyman owns a string of restaurants in California. . . . Alfred W. McCann, Jr., food commentator, takes pictures of heigurs, his photographic feat being recording an Alaska salmon run from beginning to end. . . . Tommy Dorsey spends his spare hours with a miniature railroad in the attic of his home.

Manhattan Crowds: Of musicians gathering during the matinee hours on the pavements about 1800 Broadway and Sixth avenue and Fifth street where the union offices are. . . . Of high-school students meeting in the lobby of the Paramount. . . . Of out-of-towners using the Rockefeller Center fountain to start their Manhattan tours. . . . Of colleagues in the Astor lobby. . . . Of time-wasters circling about truckster vendors on Forty-second street. . . . Of large-eyed wonder seekers jamming pedestrian traffic in Times square. . . . Of uniformed policemen on Fifth avenue who spend part of their noon-hour gesticulating beside St. Patrick's cathedral. . . . Of musicians living in Kew Gardens and Forest Hills who use the last car of Eighth avenue subway trains as their private club car.

Finale: Andre Kostelanetz received a letter from a Philadelphia resident applying for the job of signing the Kostelanetz name to photographs sent to fans. The applicant was sure he could hold down the job because he had just completed his second term for forgery.

French Quarter Houses Chinese in New Orleans NEW ORLEANS.—The Orient has met the West.

The once legendary Chinatown of New Orleans has moved to the French quarter for a last stand. Driven out of their own section, the Chinese set up stores in the typical Creole buildings of the Vieux Carre.

Only 20 or 30 Chinese are left. At one time there were about a thousand living in the Chinese colony built especially for them decades ago.

Progress brought about demolition of their buildings and reports of a new, better Chinatown never developed. In the meantime, the size of the colony decreased. Coolies were barred from the waterfront and merchants were not able to meet rentals. Some Chinese went to work on farms, in stores and laundries.

Low-Tide Necklines Upset Lord Chamberlain London, July 7 (AP)—Low-tide necklines and daring bodice effects at King George's third court gave the new lord chamberlain something else to worry about besides walking backwards gracefully. Eyebrows went up like elevators last night at Buckingham Palace as debutantes curtseyed prettily in gowns plainly cut more décolleté than unofficial court practice prescribes. As a result, gossip predicted the Earl of Clarendon, the Lord Chamberlain, would "take steps" to see to it that dresses hereafter are not quite so peek-a-boo.

Matiller Dies. New York, July 7 (AP)—Andrew W. MacElveney, 52, general traffic manager of the Schenley Distillers Corporation and one of the country's leading traffic experts, died last night after a five-month illness.

Sharp Increases In Business and Home Financing Washington, July 7 (AP)—A sharp increase in home financing and encouraging reports of other business activities cheered President Roosevelt and his advisers today. Amid the bustle of last-minute business before starting his month-long tour tonight, the President received word of these economic developments: The Federal Housing Administration reported that home financing activity reached a new high in June, some phases gaining 60 and 75 percent over June, 1937. Administrator Stewart Mc Donald said the FHA would insure $1,000,000,000 of new building this year.

Postmaster General Farley said postal earnings for the last 12 months were the highest on record. The Rural Electrification Administration made its first allotments in the new "pump-priming" program, setting aside $11,229,200 for 65 rural power projects in 18 states and Puerto Rico.

The Interstate Commerce Commission authorized eastern railroads to increase coach fares one-half cent a mile. The carriers estimated this would boost revenue $30,000,000 a year. Chairman Jesse H. Jones announced the RFC would borrow more than $700,000,000 in the next 12 months to repay loans made by the treasury.

Senator O'Mahoney (D-Wyo), Chairman of the Monopoly Investigation Committee, predicted that businessmen generally would be pleased by the fact-finding nature of the inquiry. Conway P. Coe, Patent Commissioner, interpreted a recent increase in patent applications as a strong indication of industrial recovery.

McDonald announced that small home mortgages selected for appraisal in June totaled $55,184,630, an increase of 75 percent over June, 1937. Mortgages accepted for insurance during the month, he said, reached $73,363,400, a 60 percent gain over the same month last year, and brought the total of FHA insurance to $1,645,440,965.

Cole Tells Life At Gettysburg

Gettysburg, Pa.,
July 4, 1938,
Editor, The Freeman:
Tent No. 1,255,
10th Street.
Dear Friends:

I am here from home celebrating the 75th anniversary of this great battle which I fought in for three days and this encampment and set-up is the most marvelous affair I ever saw. There are 2,000 Union men and 600 Confederate men every state in the U. S., and every one has an attendant with him to look after him.

My son, Frank, is with me. Every one of these old vets range from 91 to 108 years old. Some are very feeble to walk but their spirits seem strong. They have 300 regular army men here, 2,000 state militia, 600 Pennsylvania state troopers and 500 Boy Scouts to look after us.

We are tenting on the old camp ground and have every convenience and comfort, including lavatories and showers on the field near us. We have large dining halls where they seat us all at one sitting and the best of eats and plenty of it. We have fine beds and electric lights and all screened in, rugs on the floor and easy chairs so you see they are taking good care of us and they take us everywhere by hundreds of busses. I have been 40 miles around the battlefield and saw 900 monuments out of 2,500 that are here. They took us to the Gettysburg College Stadium for a number of events. Governor Earle of Pennsylvania is here and Secretary of War Woodring, and last night President Roosevelt spoke on Oak Ridge before 200,000 people. So the little town of Gettysburg is doing itself pretty. The population is 6,000 and the place is beautifully decorated. Everyone from the children up is giving us a great ovation. The weather is fine, a little cool in the morning and nights and no mosquitoes.

We are meeting people and exchanging handshakes with both the Blue and the Gray and some fine old Johnny Rebels are here and they can give the old Rebel yell like 75 years ago despite their age. We come down by West Shore to New York, the Pennsylvania railroad to Harrisburg, Pa., and Reading to Gettysburg, Pullman all the way and all expenses paid and a check for incidental expenses en route besides which was made possible by the government and the State of Pennsylvania Federal Commission.

Today, the Fourth, they put on an army field maneuver; 1,000 infantry and 500 cavalry and 100 artillery and it was fine. We all sat in grand-stand seats sheltered from the sun and heard plenty of good army music and tonight the fireworks will take place and we can sit in front of our tents and see it all as Oak Ridge is high and can be seen from the camp. The holiday crowds are tremendous and autos by the thousands are here. No one can enter the camp only by pass from headquarters. We have plenty of army doctors and hospital service, etc. My eyes are growing a little dim, but I get around pretty good and haven't missed a meal yet, and in conclusion I hope to get home the latter part of the week, and gentlemen, I hope the few remarks will be of some interest to you and with kind regards and best wishes to you all in Kingston, I am yours,

AUGUSTUS COLE,
The Grand Old Soldier of Ulster County.

Mrs. Roy Moore and Mrs. Lloyd Moore have returned home after having spent their vacation at Port Chester.

Clara Howland, who is employed at Port Chester, spent the holiday with her sister, Mrs. Roy Moore.

The Queen Esther Society will hold its regular monthly business meeting Wednesday evening, July 13. The club business could be more satisfactorily taken care of if a larger number of members would attend the meetings.

The $500,000 feudal castle which will house Japan's exhibit at the 1939 World's Fair of the West, will be fabricated in Japan and shipped to Treasure Island in sections to be set up by Nipponese craftsmen.

Policeman, Shot 5 Times, Dies Today

New York, July 7 (AP).—Patrolman Harry J. Padlan, 53, shot five times by a barker prisoner under hospital treatment for injuries received in a dive through the window of a liquor store, died today.

Thirty panic stricken patients in Harlem Hospital scurried for safety last night when the prisoner, Harry Webber, 37, snatched the patrolman's service revolver and emptied it at him. Three of the bullets struck Padlan in the stomach.

One patient, recovering from a broken leg, leaped from bed and broke it again.

Suffering cuts and possible skull fracture, Webber had been taken to the hospital by policemen who overpowered him after he leaped through a Broadway liquor store's window and began smashing bottles on the shelves.

Padlan was summoned to Webber's bedside by a nurse who said Webber was trying to strangle himself. As Padlan bent over him, the prisoner revived and seized his revolver.

A hospital orderly and another patrolman subdued Webber. He was removed to the psychopathic ward of Bellevue Hospital.

Menus

Of The Day

By Mrs. Alexander George

Summer Luncheon Party

Hawaiian Salad
2 cups diced pineapple
2 cups diced bananas
2 tablespoons lemon juice
Chill all ingredients. Combine and serve in cups of crisp lettuce. Top with some of the Tropical Dressing. Pass additional dressing in a bowl.

Tropical Dressing
1 egg yolk
2 tablespoons flour
1 cup granulated sugar
1 teaspoon salt
1/2 teaspoon dry mustard
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1/2 cup grapefruit juice
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup boiling water
1/2 cup whipped cream
Beat yolks. Add flour, sugar, salt, mustard, paprika and celery salt. Add juices and water. Cook slowly, stirring constantly, until creamy, thick sauce forms. Beat and cool. Fold in the cream and serve on fruit salads.

Sugary Twists
1 cake compressed yeast
1/2 cup granulated sugar
1/2 cup butter
2 eggs, beaten
1 cup milk
1/2 cup lard
1/2 cup fat
2 tablespoons butter
4 1/2 cups flour
Crumble the yeast in a large bowl. Add one tablespoonful of the sugar. After five minutes add the rest of the sugar, the salt, eggs, milk, fat and butter, melted. Add two cups of the flour. Beat two minutes. Fold in the rest of the ingredients. Cover the bowl with a cloth and let the dough rise until it is doubled in size. (About four hours.) Roll out the dough until it is half an inch thick. Spread with Sugar Dip.

Sugar Dip
1/4 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons flour
Mix ingredients and press into soft dough. Cut dough into strips one by six inches. Twist quickly and arrange on greased pans. Let rise until doubled in size. Bake for seven minutes in a moderate oven.

White Plains Refuses
White Plains, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—A grant of $585,000 from the Public Works Administration for construction of two school buildings here has been rejected by the city council and the Board of Education. The grant was refused because an additional $175,000 would have to be raised locally. "Members of the council and the board realize," a joint statement said, "that the issuance of additional bonds would cause an increase in taxes and consequently an additional burden to the taxpayers."

S. P. C. A. Finds Loophole
Buffalo, July 7 (AP)—The Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals found a loophole in the law for a Buffalo pigeon lover. Officials told Mrs. Jerome P. Cavanaugh it was illegal to "place food for pigeons on the ground." Mrs. Cavanaugh appealed to the S. P. C. A. for advice. "Build a platform in your yard and place the food on that," she was told. The platform was built.

Dr. Kung Says Chinese Anxious to Be Let Alone

The following statement was written for the Associated Press by Dr. H. H. Kung, president of the Executive Yuan (Premier) of China, for publication on the first anniversary of the Chinese-Japanese war.

By DR. H. H. KUNG
Hankow, July 7 (AP)—It has been a year since Japan forced upon China the present undeclared war. The Chinese people are by nature and philosophy peace-loving. Our sages taught us to hate war and to promote world brotherhood.

We have been anxious to be left alone to work out our internal development, for the benefit both of our people and of the world. Unfortunately, the repeated armed aggressions of Japan's militarists have left no choice but to take up arms in self-defense.

In 1931 when Japan invaded China's northeastern provinces (Manchuria), the world was shocked and baffled by Japan's clever propaganda. The endless troubles taught the world a lesson that is indeed costly.

Encouraged by the world's inaction toward their Manchurian invasion and driven by their unbounded lust for power and supremacy, Japan's militarists are now taking advantage of the western powers' preoccupation with their problems at home and ruthlessly seeking to conquer China as a step toward realizing their dream of establishing hegemony in the Pacific and eventual domination over the world.

Today the victims of Japan's aggression are the Chinese people, tomorrow they will be other peoples if her mania for war and conquest is not checked in time. Furthermore, in perpetuating their present aggression,

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backaches quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

A kidney cure is Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning show there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

In excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backaches, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headache and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, and successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

HOLLYWOOD SIGHTS AND SOUNDS

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—Maude Adams, in life as legendary a figure of the theater as Bernard and Duse in death, will be making her first screen appearance this year, but behind it will be years of interest in films as a dramatic medium.

For years Hollywood has offered her screen opportunities, but Producer David O. Selznick was the first to get her signature on a contract.

Whether her work in Hollywood will affect her status as the theater's No. 1 recluse was not determined by her recent screening visit. Workers reported her not the least shy, either before screen or still cameras, and said she was enthusiastic over her "new adventure."

It was as a technician, a side of her activities little known to the thousands who acclaimed her as the heroine of Barrie's best known plays, that she first became interested in films. Retiring completely from the stage in 1917, two years after her producer Charles Frohman died in the sinking of the Lusitania, Miss Adams was out of the public eye until 1931, when she appeared briefly in Cleveland in "The Merchant of Venice."

However, early in her retirement, at the suggestion of a friend, she had asked the manager of a theater to show her his film projector and explain its workings. Her interest turned to the possibilities of color films. When she learned that there was no artificial light of sufficient power to take colored pictures at the speed necessary for movies, she took up the study of lighting.

Worked in Laboratory
At the time she was convalescing from the illness that had led to retirement, she was desperately in need of some new dramatic field. The next two years she spent in Schenectady's electrical laboratories, where facilities for experiment were arranged for her.

With Dr. Perley Gordon Nutting, she worked on problems of incandescent lighting, and Dr. Willis Rodney Whitney, of the Research Laboratory, gave her a new and powerful lamp, the "inkies," used on sound stages today, was developed.

The actress, whose home is on Long Island, gradually has lessened her retirement, although she never returned to Broadway. But as she prepares for Hollywood the spotlight falls on her own declaration, written ten years ago: "Life is still full of adventure. There is something exciting, in challenging the years to come."

And in Challenging Hollywood too, she might add now.

Gustav Hopes for Trip.
New York, July 7 (AP)—Crown Prince Gustav Adolf of Sweden, apparently recovered from a kidney ailment, looked forward today to resuming his interrupted tour of America.

Released from a hospital yesterday, the 55-year-old heir to the Swedish throne, told a luncheon of industrial leaders that unrestricted trade was a sound basis for international peace. Last night he attended a dinner in his honor. His wife, Crown Princess Louise, and their son Bertil—nicknamed "Bertle"—by Mayor LaGuardia—also were present.

Elizabeth Barrett married Robert Browning when she was 41 years old.

Takes Blue Ribbon
Dunkirk, July 7 (AP)—The tug New York carried off the blue ribbon of Dunkirk's fishing fleet here.

While a half dozen other ships were able to take a combined catch of only 700 pounds of blue pike in one Lake Erie voyage, the New York chugged into port heavily laden with a ton and a half of fish.

TWO-THIRDS SWEEP TICKETS ARE FAKE

Distributor Exposes How Americans Are Cheated.

New York—Two out of every three Irish Sweepstakes tickets sold in the United States are counterfeit, which raises the "normal" odds against winning a major prize from 1,000,000 to 1 up to 3,000,000 to 1, according to an expose of the "racket" written by one of the American distributors, who remains anonymous because he says, "It's not too easy to find a $15,000 a year job these days with the boss 4,000 miles away."

The expose, published in Collier's, also reveals that if the buyer is fortunate enough to get a genuine ticket, still only 75 cents out of his $2.50 ever gets into the winners' pool. The other $1.75 goes into commissions for salesmen, distributors and wholesalers, bribes connected with smuggling, payment of handsome salaries to executives, "operating expenses" and finally the Irish Hospitals Trust Ltd.

Writing under the pseudonym of "Fred McDonald," the author of the article states that in addition to the numerous American distributors who average $15,000 a year, there are five wholesalers in this country who average $150,000 each.

Americans Are Easy.
"The greatest boon to my business," he says, "is that the average buyer of a Sweep ticket has little curiosity and apparently no resentment about the way his $2.50 is treated after he surrenders it. And if you don't think this is eccentric you should consider that Americans buy $100,000,000 worth of Irish Sweep tickets every year."

"Provided of course your ticket is the real thing (and remember the odds are 2 to 1 against that) the man who sells it to you takes a commission of 42 cents. In time the distributor who supplies the agent with the ticket gets 21 cents, and the wholesaler who supplies the distributor gets another 21 cents, reducing your $2.50 to $1.06. About 50 more cents are taken out at the Dublin office for 'expenses,' a word that covers a multitude of abuses. "Out of the remaining dollar, give or take a few cents, now comes the 25 per cent cut given to the 57 beneficiary Irish hospitals, a flood of quarters that through the years has amounted to $57,500,000. So by the time your $2.50 is ready to go into the winners' pool it has shriveled to about 75 cents. And there it remains, to suffer no more shrinkage until the governments of the world, notably ours, begin to demand their tax cuts from the winners."

Clever Imitators.
McDonald states that if a ticket is genuine it is printed in Ireland and stitched to a cover that is watermarked "Swift Brook Ltd. Irish Paper $1,000 reward conviction imitators." Counterfeiters who print and deliver receipts as well as tickets have even duplicated that watermark, he says, but adds that "the real McCoy" will stand boiling in three parts water and one part common household soda, where the counterfeit watermark won't.

"It isn't the occasional thief who bothers the trust," according to McDonald, "it's the double menace of the United States government and a series of adept counterfeiters. Confiscating government men and counterfeiters cost the Irish Sweepstakes about a quarter of a billion dollars in paper profits each year."

"Policing, publicizing and promoting the Sweep cost the operators fantastic sums of money, but since it is not their own they are fearless with it. The spies, muscle men and messengers within the United States are on straight salaries and good ones. Millions, of course, are paid in commissions, and uncounted thousands in graft go mostly to ship owners or officers who aid in smuggling tickets. Then there is the terrific overhead in Dublin with thousands of clerks, tremendous cable tolls, and the cost of printing 90,000,000 books of tickets and receipt blanks a year."

Mysterious Postal Penn Yan, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—In E. J. Walker's mailbox the other day, a mysterious postal card postmarked Baalbek, Syria, appeared with this address: "E. J. P. Y. N. Y. U. S. A." It was signed G. H. L. and it arrived two weeks after Dr. G. Howard Leander, Penn Yan, mailed it in Syria while on a Mediterranean cruise.

Wins Divorce Decree Reno, Nev., July 7 (AP)—Mrs. Elizabeth Suydam Moore won an uncontested divorce decree on grounds of cruelty here yesterday from James C. Moore, member of a socially prominent New York city family. They were married at Harrison, N. Y., December 27, 1935. The divorce trial was private.

Nights Complete 5th Anniversary Celebration Plans

All details have been completed and everything is in readiness for the gala celebration which the Kingston Council No. 275, K. of C. will sponsor in observance of the 5th anniversary of the laying of the cornerstone of the local clubhouse.

The celebration will be inaugurated by a corporate communion on Sunday morning, July 10, during the 8 o'clock Mass in St. Joseph's Church. This inspiring spectacle, always an important and traditional opening function for all local K. of C. celebrations, is expected to be attended by approximately 500 members of the order.

On Wednesday evening, July 13, 25 years to the day of the actual cornerstone laying rite, a program will be given in the clubhouse on Broadway at Andrew street to which the public is extended a cordial invitation by the members of the local chapter. There will be a speaking program, refreshments under the direction of John J. Egan, and general dancing with music furnished by a popular local orchestra. The committee in charge of the celebration is making plans to accommodate one of the largest crowds ever to attend any function in the clubhouse.

Have A Party Luncheon

I always get a lot of fun out of summer party luncheons. Their very informality means a grand good time for one and all. And it seems so good to meet those friends of friends, who always have some new and interesting chatter to listen to. Perhaps more homemakers would entertain at this type of a party if they didn't think it meant a lot of hard work in a hot kitchen. Well, just make up your mind that it won't lead you into that—invent the guests and serve some simple menu like this:

Creamed Chicken on Asparagus
Sliced Tomatoes, French Dressing
Rolls

Ripe Olives
Red Devil's Food Cake
India Ice

Now maybe that looks like a "big order" to you. But let me assure you that it's quite simple to prepare—even at the last minute. Of course you will use canned chicken. At this season of the year you might select fresh asparagus—or canned if you prefer. The French Dressing can be made early in the morning, placed in a glass jar, and a few quick shakes will mix it perfectly before using. The Devil's Food Cake I'd make the day before if I could possibly squeeze it into my program, because it keeps wonderfully. Or in an emergency it may be made early on the morning of the party. Likewise the India Ice which may remain in the freezing unit of the mechanical refrigerator until time to serve. If you haven't a mechanical refrigerator serve a fresh pineapple mint cup. Very tasty with Devil's Food! Here are some recipes:

CREAMED CHICKEN WITH ASPARAGUS
1 six-ounce tin canned boned chicken,

1 cup medium cream sauce, 1 can asparagus tips or 1 bunch fresh asparagus. ½ teaspoon salt and ½ teaspoon pepper. Heat the chicken in cream sauce and add seasonings. Heat the asparagus tips in the liquor in the can, or cook fresh asparagus until tender. Arrange on serving plate, cover with the creamed chicken and garnish with strips of pimiento or a dash of paprika. Slices of tomato served with French Dressing complete the plate. Four servings.

RED DEVIL'S FOOD CAKE
½ cup margarine, ¼ cups granulated sugar, ½ cup cocoa, ½ cup hot water, 1 egg, well-beaten, 1½ cups pastry or cake flour, ¼ teaspoon salt, 1

Hints

Many homemakers will find it saves time to prepare large recipes of food tea punch, fresh or powdered fruit beverages, root beer or iced coffee to keep on ice for quick service.

Be sure that the members of your family are using the right type of white shoe cleaner this year, depending on whether their shoes are suede, kid, or fabric. There is one white shoe cleaner that is suitable for all white shoes.

teaspoon baking soda, ½ cup sour milk and 1 teaspoon vanilla.

Cream margarine, gradually add sugar and continue creaming until light and fluffy. Combine cocoa and hot water and mix until smooth, then add to creamed mixture, blending thoroughly. Add egg and blend. Sift dry ingredients together three times and add alternately with liquids to creamed mixture. Bake in 2 eight-inch layer pans in a moderate oven (350°F.) 30 minutes or until done.

INDIA ICE
Make 4 cups hot tea. Add 2 cups powdered sugar and ¼ cup lemon juice. Freeze, stirring occasionally. Serve with fresh mint.

Raspberry Shortcake

1 package lemon rennet powder, 1 pint milk, 4 pieces sponge cake and 1 cup sweetened fresh raspberries. Place the pieces of cake in the bottom of dessert dishes. Place a tablespoon or two of the sweetened berries on top of each piece. Dissolve rennet powder in lukewarm milk. Pour immediately over pieces of cake and berries and let set until firm, about 10 minutes. Chill before serving. Use superfine powdered sugar to sweeten the berries. Round wheat cereal biscuits may be substituted for the sponge cake. Serves 4.

ORIENTAL SALAD

2½ cups bean sprouts, 2 cups pineapple cubes, 1½ cups pineapple juice, 3 tablespoons mayonnaise, ¼ cup nutmeats, chopped, 3 tablespoons lemon juice, ¼ teaspoon dry mustard, 1 teaspoon salt and 1 teaspoon soy sauce. Boil bean sprouts in pineapple and lemon juice 15 minutes. Drain and chill. Combine with pineapple cubes, nutmeats and seasonings. Then add mayonnaise, toss lightly, chill and serve.

JEWEL SALAD*

1 envelope unflavored gelatin, ¼ cup cold water, ¼ cup hot water, ¼ cup pineapple juice, 2 tablespoons mild vinegar, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 cup diced cucumber, 1 cup pineapple cubes and ¼ teaspoon salt.

Pour cold water in bowl and sprinkle gelatin on top of water. Add salt and hot water and stir until dissolved. Add pineapple juice, lemon juice and vinegar. Cool and when mixture begins to thicken, add cucumber cubes and diced pineapple. Turn into individual molds that have been rinsed in cold water. Chill. Unmold on lettuce and serve.

SAVE THE Flavor!

HERE'S THE WAY TO PREPARE

ALBANY PACKING CO'S

FIRST PRIZE FRANKFURTS

First Prize Frankfurts are already thoroughly cooked, but—Much of their delicious flavor can be lost by improper heating. The correct way is to bring the water to a boil, then turn off the heat. Drop in the First Prize Frankfurts. Leave them there for ten minutes. Then serve piping hot. Don't boil them, as that causes them to burst open and allows the natural meat juices to escape into the water.

Just to make sure you are buying plump, tender First Prize Frankfurts, look for the word "PRIZE" electrically branded on each one. Prepare First Prize Frankfurts as suggested and your family will probably say they never knew frankfurts could taste so good.

MARLBOROUGH

Marlborough, July 7.—Funeral services were held on Wednesday afternoon from the funeral home of H. S. Tuttle, Marlborough, for the late Miss Cornelia F. Purdy, retired school teacher, who died in her home here on July 2 after a short illness. Miss Purdy was born 92 years ago in Marlborough, a daughter of the late Sylvanus and Mary Frost Purdy on October 1, 1845, and had lived here all her life and had been a teacher in the public schools in the town of Marlborough for about 40 years. She was a member of the Presbyterian Church. Survivors are a niece, Mrs. G. H. Oldring, of Brooklyn, a nephew, Fred Purdy, of Colorado Springs, a grand niece, Mrs. N. Argukie, of New York, and a grand nephew, Allen H. Purdy, of Marlborough. Services in the funeral home were conducted by the Rev. Claude McIntosh, and burial was in the Cedar Hill Cemetery.

Funeral services were held on Monday morning from the home and from St. Mary's Church, Marlborough, for the late Nell J. Twomey, 58, who died in his home in West Marlborough on Friday. He had been in ill health for about six years and had been critically ill for a month. Born in West Marlborough on January 1, 1880, a son of Mary E. McCarthy and the late Michael Twomey, he had resided all his life on the extensive farm on which he died. He was a member of St. Mary's Church, Marlborough, the Holy Name Society, and the Newburgh Council, No. 444, Knights of Columbus. He is survived by his widow, Nora Twomey, his mother, Mrs. Mary Twomey, two sisters, Mrs. Mary Brown and Miss Julia Twomey, of Newburgh. Burial was in the Lattinow Cemetery under the direction of Toohy Brothers of Newburgh.

Ranalli—Mosca.

Marlborough, July 7.—The last Sunday of June, Miss Mary Mosca of Marlborough became the bride of Alfred Ranalli of Highland in St. Mary's Church, with the ceremony being performed by the pastor, the Rev. James Hanley. The bride, given in marriage by her brother Andrew Mosca, of New York city, wore a gown of white lace over satin, with full length tulle veil attached to a braided satin headpiece caught with gardenias and she carried an old-fashioned bouquet of lilacs-of-the-valley and gardenias. Miss Edith Mosca of New York was her sister's maid of honor and wore yellow marquisette with matching accessories and a picture hat of natural straw. She carried a bouquet of sweet peas and tall-mans roses. Anthony Cacio of Poughkeepsie was best man. The bride is a graduate of the Marlborough High School class of 1930, and is the daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Pasquale Mosca. Mr. Ranalli is a graduate of Highland High School and is employed by the Colonial Life Insurance Company of Newburgh. After a wedding trip, Mr. and Mrs. Ranalli will reside in Lattinow.

Erceg-Gersch.

Marlborough, July 7.—The marriage on May 14, in St. Patrick's Church, Newburgh, of Miss Marie Lillie Gersch, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Erceg of Highland and James Erceg, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. Erceg of Marlborough, has been announced by the parents of the bride. The bride was a member of this year's graduating class of the Highland High School. Mr. Erceg is a graduate of the Marlborough High School and is employed by the Widmann Bakery. Mr. and Mrs. Erceg will make their home in Newburgh.

Bewick-Schellenger.

Marlborough, July 7.—Last Saturday, in the Cape May Baptist Church, Miss Frances Elizabeth Schellenger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Schellenger of Cape May, N. J. became the bride of David S. Bewick, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ridley Bewick of Middle Hope, the ceremony being performed by the Rev. J. C. Pierce. Mr. Bewick is well known here and after spending the summer at Lake Kanawakee, Bear Mountain, where he has been employed, the young couple will make their home in Cornwall, where Mr. Bewick is coach at the Cornwall High School. Mrs. Bewick is a sister of Jack Schellenger, coach of the Marlborough High School.

and Mr. Bewick is a brother of Miss Winifred Bewick, a member of the Marlborough Central School faculty.

The first wrist watch was presented to Queen Elizabeth by the Earl of Leicester in 1572.

Complete mechanics in production of The Christian Science Monitor will be portrayed at the Western World's Fair in 1939.

FARM YOUTH SAVES DROWNING LAD

Real pals are Bernard Stetzer, 9, (left) and William Sievert, 18-year-old farm youth from Savanna, Ill., who leaped into the turbulent current of the Mississippi river at Minneapolis and saved Bernard's life. After bringing young Stetzer ashore, Sievert applied artificial respiration to bring the victim back to consciousness.

At The Theatres

Kingston Double features—

"Island in the Sky" with Michael Whalen and Gloria Stuart, and "Little Miss Troubadour" starring Janet Chapman. Preview of Goldiggers in Paris.

Broadway "Toy Wife," a story of romance featuring Louise Rainer, Melvyn Douglas and Robert Young.

Orpheum Fred Astaire and Norma Varden show new starring vehicle "A Damsel in Distress" is the story of an American dancer who seeks to rescue a titled British girl from her impending marriage with a man she detests.

Burns and Allen, as the busy publicists, are at their hilarious best, and Miss Fontaine is both lovely and convincing as the distressed damsel Montagu Love.

Constance Collier, Ray Noble, Reginald Gardiner, young Harry Watson and Jack Carson help to make the film brilliant. Astaire's several spectacular dancing routines, and the picturesque settings, are big features of the production.

Tomorrow Kingston "Goldiggers in Paris," a musical featuring Rudy Vallee, famous radio bandmaster, the Schmickelreitz band, Rosemary Lane and that funny comedian Hugh Herbert.

Broadway Same Preview showing of "Josette" with three delightful stars in the "too-tal" history of love Bert Lahr and Joan Davis head the featured cast supporting Don Ameche, more romantic than ever, Simone Simon, French coquette, and Robert Young who won't take "No" for an answer even in French.

Orpheum Double features, "Start Cheering" starring Jimmy Durante, famous comedian of radio and screen, and "Land of Fighting Men" with Jack Randall.

Tradition Upsetter Penn Yan, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—A tradition upsetter is Mary Raiman, Hollis, Long Island. The winner of the Keuka College hoop rolling race is supposed to be the first of her class to marry. Miss Raiman was last this spring but today Miss Raiman was Mrs. Kenneth Sorensen, wife of the assistant college chef, and the first of her class to say "I do."

The family name of the English royal house was changed from Wettin to Windsor July 17, 1917.

Jr. League Plans Gala Dance July 16

Gay plans for a dance to delight the hearts of all lovers of gala dances are being prepared by the younger members of the Junior League. The dance, which will be held at the Twaalfskill Golf Club the evening of Saturday, July 16, is for the benefit of the Children's Play Fund.

The members of the league are preparing to give one children's entertainment in the fall and plan to present another in the spring should the reception of the first play warrant it. Last year the two performances given at the high school for the children were received with great enthusiasm. Thoughts of mid-summer and the warm evenings will be allayed by the committee for the dance who are planning to create a cooling atmosphere with decorations of summer flowers.

The orchestra will be Phil Baker's, and he and his three aids will play music with an instrumentation of a seven piece band. There will also be several novelty dances included in the evening's program, which is slated to last from 9 until 1.

Although not included in the price of the dance tickets, dinner will be served at the club for all those who make reservations in advance. All reservations should be made by Thursday, July 14.

Miss Elizabeth Betz, chairman of the dance, has as her able assistants Mrs. Edward Shea, Mrs. Randolph Winston, Mrs. Charles O'Reilly, Mrs. N. LeVan Haver, Miss Josephine Pratt and Mrs. Le Grand Haviland, Jr.

Lorraine-Emrick

Miss Jessie McLaren Emrick, a graduate of Oneonta Normal school and daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joel W. Emrick of West Camp, and Charles Franklin Lorraine of Oneonta were married Sunday, June 26, in St. Paul's Lutheran church, West Camp, by the Rev. LaRoy S. Detrich. After a wedding trip through the Adirondacks, they will reside in Oneonta.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore white satin and lace with long train and a tulle veil trimmed with orange blossoms. She carried a bouquet of American beauty roses. Her sister, Miss Aredelle Emrick of West Camp, was maid of honor and Miss June Lasher of Tannersville and Miss Maude Anderson of Salem were bridesmaids. The maid of honor wore blue organza trimmed with black velvet, and the bridesmaids were gowned in yellow organza trimmed with black velvet. The three wore black velvet bandeaus. The maid of honor carried blue delphiniums and baby's breath, and the bridesmaids' bouquets were coreopsis and baby's breath.

The flower girls, Audrey Jean Emrick and Barbara Teetsell, carried bouquets of June roses and were dressed in pink organza, trimmed with black velvet, and also wore black velvet bandeaus. The ring bearer was Duane Emrick, James W. Emrick of Cobleskill, brother of the bride, was best man. The ushers were Custer Emrick and Joel Emrick, brothers of the bride.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for the members of the immediate families and relatives. A number of gifts were received by the couple.

Surprise Party

Last evening 14 of the younger social set tendered a surprise party to Miss Thelma Tranker at her home on Malden Lane. Throughout the evening various amusement features were enjoyed under the supervision of Dorothy Schiavone and Virginia St. Leger, who conducted the entire program of the surprise party. Probably the most enjoyable feature of the evening was a scavenger hunt, which has been one of the interesting pastimes in this locality for a number of years. Marian Roedel and John L. St. Leger were declared winners with each bringing in 20 articles. Although this scavenger hunt occupied plenty of interesting moments, the following amateur night was well received. For this Stephen Rich was the master of ceremonies, with all of the guests participating in the fun. Jean Cahill and Doris Thomas were judged the most pleasing. Following this venture refreshments were served to all. Those who attended were Virginia St. Leger, Dorothy Schiavone, Marian Roedel, Jean Cahill, Doris Thomas, Victor Smith, John L. Sharot, Stephen Rich, Robert Emrick, Harry St. Leger, Robert Beals, Mark Weil and Vincent Wolfertsteg.

Host on Eleventh Birthday

Master Billy Anderson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Anderson of 121 Highland avenue, was host at a party Friday evening in honor of his 11th birthday. The little host and his guests are seen above gathered around the party table. They are Ruth Evory, Gladys Paulus, Ruby Jean Peterson, Jeanne Anderson, Star Anderson, Eva Waleur, Hilda Brown, Dorothy Nickel, Gloria Newman, Thomas Gorham, Robert Hills, Robert Hicks, Robert Schwenk, Robert Hines, Jack Deegan, Billy Paulus, William Boyle, William Wriggs and the host.

Local People Visit Pastor

Mr. and Mrs. Robert D. Evans, Jr. of Washington avenue, have returned from a two weeks' vacation in Cincinnati, O., where they were the guests of the Rev. Dr. Goodrich Gates and Mrs. Gates, formerly of this city. Dr. Gates is now associate secretary of the Cincinnati Federation of Churches and pastor of the Maderia Presbyterian Church. This month he is establishing a church at Greenhills, Ohio, a government resettlement project for 650 families, and was recently placed in charge of the worship services in the Synod of Ohio.

While in Cincinnati Mr. and Mrs. Evans were lunching guests of the Rev. Dr. J. A. Dickman at the Bethesda Hospital. Dr. Dickman, father of Mrs. Gates, is president of the board and superintendent of the hospital. After luncheon they were escorted through the hospital and allied institutions. Dr. Dickman has preached in the First Presbyterian Church in this city while visiting Dr. and Mrs. Gates here.

Choir Enjoys Social Evening

On Tuesday evening of this week the choir of the Writts Street Baptist Church were pleasantly entertained by the Choir-master and Director Herman LaTour on the beautiful grounds in the rear of his residence on Hasbrouck avenue. Croquet was played on the lawn by several members present while others sat around the lovely lagoon as the moon cast its reflection over the water. Later in the evening hot dogs were roasted in the cobbles and open fire place and other refreshments were served. Before the affair came to a close group singing was enjoyed. The beauty of the grounds with its old rustic log cabin and rustic summer house, pool, fire place, all surrounded by lovely trees, made the occasion one long to be remembered. Those present were Edna Hamilton, Laura Parsells, Beatrice Elias, Ethel Vandemark, Virginia Vandemark, Pearl Rightmeyer, Joan Nan Legg, Evelyn H. Legg, Mrs. Clarence Brown, Dorothy Davis, Mrs. Herman LaTour, Margaret Reiser, Florence Smith, Helen Koepfen, Natalie LaTour, Margaret LaTour, Elizabeth LaTour, Lina Wolven, Charles Brodhead, Paul Barnum, the Rev. Clarence Brown and Herman LaTour.

LOW-INCOME GROUP TO GET CHEAP RENT

Model Village in New York Ready for Occupancy.

SCHENECTADY, N. Y.—Schoonewille will come to life soon and a part of Schenectady's "ill-housed one-third" will find out how the other two-thirds live.

Schoonewille village is a five-unit federal housing development a step from Schenectady's business district. Two hundred and nineteen apartments in the five buildings will be ready for occupancy shortly.

The apartments will range in size from two to five rooms. Modern plumbing, an electric refrigerator, a gas stove and cross ventilation will be included.

Frank Barclay, project manager, cited other improvements.

"In the kitchen of each apartment there will be a combination sink and laundry tub and in the basement of each building a complete laundry, with washing machines and drying rooms.

Big Room for Parties.

"In the basement of one building there will be a community kitchen for use any time residents want to give a party. In the basement of another building there will be a large recreation room, in which will center community life of the village."

A trained social worker will manage the buildings, Barclay said. His job will be to provide entertainment—dances, games and educational classes—for the residents at no expense to themselves.

"The whole idea is to provide adequate housing for people who aren't able to buy that now and, at the same time, do a certain amount of social service work," Barclay said.

He hastened to explain, however, that applicants for apartments have not been typical slum dwellers.

"They are in the low-income group," he added. Asked what type person had applied, Barclay answered: "We have had lots of widows with children—and lots of older people who are living on pensions or wives of veterans whose husbands are in hospitals. The people one thinks of as 'slum dwellers' just aren't coming."

Similar Rents Cited.

Renting of apartments was discussed by F. W. Fisch, municipal director of the Schenectady Municipal housing authority.

"Over the country as a whole rents in similar federal housing projects average about $4.50 a room a month for shelter only," Fisch said. "Light, heat, water, fuel for cooking and power for refrigeration average about $2, making somewhere near $7 a month a room for shelter and all service."

"That does not mean the rent here will be exactly that, but it probably will be about $7."

A family whose income is more than five times the rent it would pay will not be admitted to Schoonewille village, he said. Acceptable families must be those unable to find adequate living quarters for what they can afford to pay.

The village was started in 1936 with an allotment of $1,500,000 from the federal government.

Noah's Oldest Passenger Was Chinese Ginkgo Tree

WASHINGTON.—Noah's oldest passenger aboard the Ark apparently was the Chinese ginkgo tree.

It is a survival of the Jurassic geological era of about 150,000,000 years ago, according to Dr. Roland W. Brown, of the United States Geological survey. Most other living things took their present form not more than 60,000,000 years ago, he said.

In a park near the White House, Doctor Brown has discovered one ginkgo practically indistinguishable from fossil specimens of the earliest period. Such a ginkgo is almost as remarkable as would be a Twentieth century dinosaur, he said.

Stripping Cork Oaks

The stripping operation on cork oaks requires skilled and experienced hands, lest the trunks of the trees be bruised. When it is carefully done the oaks not only replenish themselves with cork but the process apparently is good for them. They sometimes live 300 years. Stripping is done every 10 years, the quality of the cork improving each decade until the tree is well past the century mark.

Enjoy Omar Khayyam
World-Famous Poems

A BOOK OF VERSES
UNDERNEATH THE BOUGH,
A JUG OF WINE, A LOAF
OF BREAD—AND THOU.

All the beauty and wisdom, and sadness of life are summed up in the immortal Rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam.

No wonder countless generations have quoted the poet's matchless words:

"Ah, my Beloved, all that thou art is in me."

Today of past Regrets and fears:

Tomorrow!—Why, Tomorrow!

And in reckless mood, hasn't felt the force of the fatal couplet:

"Ah, take the cash, and let the credit go."

Nor heed the rumble of a drum!"

Or mourned with those long centuries ago:

"Yet Ah, that Spring should vanish with the rose!"

That youth's sweet-scented manuscript should close!"

You'll take life-long pleasure in this richly illustrated translation of the 101 exquisite rubaiyat of Omar Khayyam—poet, philosopher, astronomer.

Send 10 cents for your copy of the RUBAIYAT OF OMAR KHAYYAM to Kingston Daily Freeman, Home Service, 6 Sixth avenue, New York, N. Y. Be sure to write plainly your NAME, ADDRESS, and the NAME booklet.

"A midsummer dream—made with quick-dissolving Jack Frost"

RED RASPBERRY PARFAIT

(Serves about 8)

1 quart fresh red raspberries ¼ teaspoon salt
¾ cup Jack Frost Extra-Fine Powdered Sugar 2 egg whites
1 cup heavy cream, whipped

2 teaspoons lemon juice

1. Simmer 1 pint raspberries with small amount of water until slightly softened. Press raspberries through fine sieve to make ¾ cup juice.

2. Add sugar and salt to juice and stir until well mixed. This takes only a moment or two, because Jack Frost Extra-Fine Powdered Sugar is unusually quick-dissolving.

3. Boil until a thick jelly-like drop forms when dropped from a spoon (225° F.).

4. Beat egg whites until stiff. Add syrup slowly, beating constantly until cool.

5. Chill. Fold in whipped cream and lemon juice.

6. Place in tray of automatic refrigerator and freeze until firm, but not hard.

7. Place spoonful of parfait in parfait glass, add spoonful of raspberries and fill with parfait. Top with more raspberries.

*Canned raspberries may be substituted, using ¾ cup juice and 1 cup raspberries, drained.

public office or cease transacting business with the town. Extra compensation has been paid to the welfare officer as he already receiving a stated compensation for his services. The criticism relates to the expense allowed to this office. The town board should pass resolution authorizing a mileage and thereafter abide by it.

It was also noted that excessive mileage rates had been allowed the peace officer. It appears that a practice prevailed whereby one of the constables was engaged at the rate of $8 per day to maintain order at the polls at election day. This duty devolved upon the election inspector and a constable cannot be paid legally therefor.

"Several claims paid from highway funds were subjected to criticism and audited by the examiners. It appears that some were not in proper form and in some instances over payments had resulted from erroneous computations.

"It is evident that greater care should be exercised in this disbursing funds of the town."

Mrs. Meyer Hurt At Maple Hill

Mrs. Sally Meyer, of 95 Hone street, was slightly injured last evening in an automobile accident at Maple Hill on the Rosendale road when a car driven by Alfred Meyer, her husband, and a car of Peter Helmsley, of New York, collided at the intersection of the two roads.

The front fender of the Helmsley car and the front left fender of the Meyer car came in contact as Helmsley pulled out of the intersection to the Rosendale-Kingston state route, according to officers who investigated. Both cars were being operated toward Rosendale. State Trooper Arthur Reilly, Deputy Sheriff Charles McCullough and Deputy Ray Winne made an investigation.

Mrs. Pauline Schwartz Granted Divorce in Florida

Mrs. Pauline Schwartz, was granted a divorce from her husband, Nicholas Schwartz of 88 Hasbrouck avenue, on or about June 4, according to Attorney Joseph Avis, who represented the defendant, Schwartz, in the proceedings.

The divorce, granted on grounds of incompatibility, was granted in the Circuit Court of the 11th Judicial District, at Miami, Fla. The parties were married in New York city in January, 1917. There are three children, two daughters, who have been in Florida and a son, who is with the father in Kingston.

MOTORISTS SPEND BILLIONS IN YEAR

Outlay More Than 10 Per Cent of U. S. Income.

WASHINGTON.—American motorists spent approximately $7,500,000,000—more than 10 per cent of the national income—last year on their automobiles, statistics compiled by the bureau of public roads disclosed.

The largest item—approximately $3,500,000,000—was for purchases, accessories and repairs. There were more than 28,000,000 motor vehicles—one for every five persons—in the United States on January 1 of this year.

Gasoline was the second largest expense, totaling approximately $3,000,000,000, of which nearly $1,000,000,000 went to states and the federal government in gasoline taxes. State taxes amounted to $761,968,000 and federal taxes to $182,181,210.

Registration and inspection fees totaled approximately $350,000,000, all of which was collected by states and cities. Personal property taxes probably added $50,000,000 to the total cost, although no exact data was available on that.

Insurance—another item on which no data was available—was believed to have cost motorists an additional $150,000,000. Traffic fines probably added $25,000,000 to $30,000,000 to the total cost of automobile operation.

Assuming an average of 16 miles per gallon of gasoline motorists drove nearly 200,000,000,000 miles last year. That estimate did not include 650,000,000 gallons used in farm tractors and stationary engines and exempt from state taxes. Travel by automobile is increasing, the bureau report showed. Consumption of gasoline last year was 1,460,000,000 gallons greater than in 1936, an increase of 7.6 per cent.

Gasoline Taxes Go Higher. State gasoline taxes in 1937 were $70,578,000 greater and federal taxes increased $14,605,000 over 1936. During the year four states increased the tax rate by 1 cent a gallon, bringing the average rate for the United States from 3.85 to 3.91 cents a gallon.

Rates of the tax ranged from 2 cents a gallon in the District of Columbia to 7 cents in Florida, Louisiana and Tennessee. Only two states showed decreases in gasoline tax income last year. They were Nebraska and Tennessee.

States reporting the largest incomes from gasoline taxes were: New York, $61,915,000; Pennsylvania, $55,720,000; California, $46,624,000; Ohio, $46,538,000; Texas, $41,679,000; Illinois, $38,286,000; Michigan, $29,430,000; Indiana, $23,497,000; North Carolina, $23,393,000; Florida, $22,466,000.

Gas Masks Provided for Dogs, Horses in Britain

LONDON.—Dogs and horses will have gas masks, but British cats must depend on their surplus lives during air raids in the next war. The Royal Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals discourages any attempt to fit cats with a gas mask, saying the suffering caused by a mask is worse than that caused by an air raid.

Being left to their fate, however, will not worry the cats of this hardy isle as they are made of stern stuff. One cat in London recently was given up for dead after a house fire that suffocated three dogs and the canary. The cat was left in the garden for later burial but seven hours afterward it completely revived.

Those who went through the air raids during the world war recall that their cats readily adapted themselves. When the bombs started dropping, the cats were the first to dive for the cellar and the last to come out.

Town Crier Outshouted, Provincetown Worries

PROVINCETOWN, MASS.—The United States' only official town crier is being outshouted by boys advertising hotels and restaurants. Though sixty-seven-year-old Amos Kubik's lungs are still strong, he is outnumbered by his youthful rivals, and the Board of Trade is considering action against the threat to "the quaintness of Provincetown."

Kubik greets boat and train passengers with announcement of tides, weather conditions and official notices.

Strange Burial Rite Held Yearly by Clan

CINCINNATI.—A strange burial ceremony was held here for the sixty-ninth time when the body of John O. Gorman, sixty-one, of Vincennes, Ind., was interred.

Each year approximately 400 members of the nomadic Gorman family assemble here in tribute to members of their clan who have died during the last year. The rite has been followed annually since 1870.

The Gormans come from all walks of life, but annually drop their business pursuits to make the "pilgrimage of the dead."

Col. James E. Gorman, leader of the family, manages a traveling rodeo.

Warms Chinese.

Hongkong, July 7 (AP)—Mme. Sun Yat-Sen, widow of the founder of the Chinese Republic, warned Chinese today against possible peace gestures from Japan as "political maneuvering to complement plans of military conquest," and urged continued resistance.

Farmers Find France. Penn Yan, N. Y., July 7 (AP)—Farmers in this area receive more than good crops when they cultivate the soil. Claude Duell dug up several 1834 five franc pieces. Earl Horton plowed up a family silver teaspoon buried 80 years ago. August Griffith discovered a vein of coal in his back yard while digging a well.
